

Built in 1879, 47 Park Avenue is an East Lake style house that has been a home to a number of local inventors and their families. Moses Keller was awarded a number of patents for farming implements while a resident here in the 1880s. Owner of Monroe Refrigeration Engineering Company, Maxwell Karge was awarded numerous patents. His company produced ice cream making equipment, refrigerators and much more. A walk-in cooler still remains in the home.
