Application forms for Brockport homeowners who wish to participate in the historic home improvement program of the Village are now available at the Village Hall, 49 State Street. Up to ten homeowners will be selected in 2008 and another ten in 2009 to receive, through the Brockport Historic Preservation Board, consultations with architect John Bero on the repair, maintenance, and improvement of their homes.

The program will be inaugurated at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, September 11, at the Village Hall with a workshop, led by Bero. He will make a presentation on general principles for the care of older homes. To be eligible for the program, structures must be single-family homes at least fifty years old with their original architecture basically intact. They must have been designated historic landmarks by the Village or their owners must agree to apply for that designation.
